

Revista Latino-Americana de Enfermagem
Call for submission of original articles on the subject
“Adolescent health and the role of nurses”

The Revista Latino-Americana de Enfermagem (RLAE) and the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) invite the national and international scientific community to submit original articles on “Adolescent health and the role of nurses”.

The articles approved in this call will follow RLAE’s continuous flow of publication and will be published in the Thematic Series “Adolescent health and the role of nurses”, jointly called by Revista Latino-Americana de Enfermagem (RLAE) and the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO).

Submissions should be linked to one of the following topics related to adolescent health and the role of nurses, focusing on vulnerable populations (extreme poverty, Afro-descendants, and indigenous peoples) and in contexts of social diversity, particularly in Latin American countries:

1. Sexual and reproductive health
2. Gender Equality
3. Violence
4. Living and working conditions
5. Mental health and drug use
6. Public policies
7. School health

RLAE is a Journal available in open access (SciELO, REV@ENF, and Portal de Revistas da USP) that publishes in English, Portuguese and Spanish the results of research in nursing and related fields written by authors from different countries. The journal is indexed in the Web of Science and JCR, Scopus and SJR, MEDLINE (PubMed Central), CINAHL, PsycINFO, and LILACS databases among others.
