Note: Translations are requested from authors after the article is approved. At this point, the original text is translated into two more languages, different from the one from which the submission originated. The cost of translations is the responsibility of the authors. To guarantee the quality of the translations, they will only be accepted accompanied by the translation certificate issued by the companies accredited by RLAE.

*Clearly inform the approval, the name of the person responsible for signing and issuing the document, the name of the institution / commission, the title of the study and the researcher (present the full approval report).

In case of authors who are unable to sign the Statement of Responsibility, Copyright Transfer and Authorship Contribution because they are in a different city than the other authors, more than one declaration is permitted, one including the name and signature of that author and the other with the names and signatures of the other authors, respecting the correct order of authorship. To upload more than one declaration in the ScholarOne system, it is necessary to upload the first declaration and then to upload the others.
